Trade Mission to Orlando, Florida - August 15-18, 2017

July 13, 2017 - Nordic Business Review, Atlanta, Georgia USA --- To demonstrate the commitment of the bilateral Trade and Investment, business delegates from Scandinavia, will participate in the 5th Annual Investing in SMART Innovation 2017 Summit in Orlando, Florida.

The Scandinavian delegation arrives on a four-day trade mission August 15, 2017. The agenda will share best practice and lessons learned how bilateral business exchange can improve trade, investment, and research between United States and Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, and Sweden, and help create 21st century workforce.

The Investing in SMART Innovation 2017 Summit in Orlando, Florida, will be hosted by SMART Community Exchange (SCE), USANOR, and Chamber of Eco Commerce, in partnership with other Trade Organizations. This event will bring together Business, Finance, Technology, and Policy Leaders, to share and learn from each other, specifically how individuals, enterprises, and organizations can benefit and participate in bilateral SMART trade.

"We understand that bilateral trade is the way to stimulate economic growth, while also creating 21st century jobs. International business exchange will enhance regional economic development, workforce training and education programs. Both U.S. and Nordic countries offer great S.M.A.R.T market potential. The SMART Community Exchange stand ready to assist S.M.A.R.T business interests internationally", Minna LeVine, CEO, Chamber of Eco Commerce, Founder SMART Community Exchange.

"With the fast growing S.M.A.R.T market, businesses from around the world, can no longer overlook this sector. While in Orlando, the international delegates will meet their U.S. peers to discover a wealth of opportunities. We will share unique strategies to foster bilateral trade and investment and education and cultural exchange through our Orlando-based international business community and our fast growing network of over 2.5 million professionals worldwide", Tana Torrano, CEO MarketVision, Founder SMART Community Exchange (SCE).
